A shameless plug

by Art Weiss, JD, CCEP–F, CCEP–I

Art Weiss (art_weiss@tamko.com) is Chief Compliance and Ethics Officer at TAMKO Building Products in Joplin, MO.

OK, I'll admit it right up front. After all, compliance and ethics professionals are supposed to have integrity, right? Wait a minute; if you're up front about being shameless, is that integrity? Never mind.

Tomorrow I head to an SCCE Regional Compliance & Ethics Conference, my second one this year. I'm geographically challenged, so I don't really know what region I'm in. How many will you go to this year? I hope every one of you reading this goes to one. By the time this is published, there will still be at least eight left this year, including three international ones.
