

Report on Supply Chain Compliance Volume 2, Number 14. August 01, 2019

Maritime cybersecurity risks outweigh coming rules

By Sascha Matuszak

The International Maritime Organization has scheduled the rollout of its newest cybersecurity guidelines for 2021, but critics within the International Maritime Organization and other organizations wonder if the regulations will be up to the task.

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login