

Report on Supply Chain Compliance Volume 2, Number 17. September 12, 2019 Companies flee to the Netherlands ahead of Brexit

By Sascha Matuszak

The Netherlands Foreign Investment Agency reported that more than 100 companies have relocated from Britain to the Netherlands in the last year, and more than 325 additional companies are considering the move. Since U.K. Prime Minister Boris Johnson took office in July, the rate of companies seeking to set up offices in the European Union has accelerated.

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login