

Report on Supply Chain Compliance Volume 2, Number 17. September 12, 2019

Garment companies consider Bangladesh, Pakistan as tariff war escalates

---

By Sascha Matuszak

Garment companies are looking into new operations in Pakistan and resuming operations in Bangladesh as the trade war between China and the United States rages on. Garment companies, in particular, are looking to other sources in order to diversify their supply chains and maintain price points that are under attack by rising tariff rates.

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login