

CEP Magazine – January 2020

Alstom SA executive found guilty of Foreign Corrupt Practices Act violations

---

By Sascha Matuszak

After years of appeals and a two-week trial, a jury found former Alstom SA executive Lawrence Hoskins guilty of six counts of violating the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA),<sup>[1]</sup> three counts of money laundering, and two counts of conspiracy.<sup>[2]</sup> The decision will have broad implications for FCPA enforcement going forward.

This document is only available to members. Please log in or become a member.

Become a Member Login