

Compliance Today – May 2021 Putting the ‘over’ in oversight

By Gerry Zack

Please feel free to contact me anytime to share your thoughts: +1 612.357.1544 (cell), +1 952.567.6215 (direct), gerry.zack@corporatecompliance.org.

- twitter.com/gerry_zack
- linkedin.com/in/gerryzack

It’s well accepted that a board of directors has responsibility for oversight of the compliance function, among other responsibilities. This oversight role is often delegated to a more manageable committee made up of board members so that this smaller group can dive into this responsibility more fully than the entire board of directors would be able to. But just how fully should they dive?

This document is only available to members. Please log in or become a member.

Become a Member Login