

Report on Supply Chain Compliance Volume 3, Number 10. May 14, 2020

Business continuity during a pandemic

By Sascha Matuszak

SecureWorld, a hub for cybersecurity news and resources, released a discussion^[1] on implementing business continuity plans during the COVID-19 pandemic. The discussion is with Milinda Rambel Stone, vice president and chief information security officer at Provation Medical, and it covers her response as a member of a task force established to implement the continuity plan at her company.

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login