If you are like most compliance professionals, your travel has been restricted significantly by the COVID-19 pandemic. In the time between when I write this in late April and when you read it, you may still be under a travel restriction. Hopefully, you're not also thinking, "There goes my monitoring and auditing plan for the year!"

Last month I wrote about the lessons we may have learned from so many more people than usual working remotely. This month, while I write this, the COVID-19 pandemic is still wreaking havoc on people and organizations. But it should not be ruining your compliance monitoring and auditing plans.
