Past Exhale titles shed light on compliance programs

by Catherine Boerner

As I was looking for an article I wrote in 2016 entitled “Difference between compliance auditor and internal auditor,” I found I enjoyed looking through all the article titles over the past eight years. It looks like all these topics are still relevant to compliance programs today.

The following is a list of Exhale columns from June 2015 to June 2019. You can still access them through COSMOS, HCCA’s publications platform. As these topics and concerns come up, sometimes it is helpful to provide your compliance committee or CEO with a short article to help put things into perspective:
