

Report on Supply Chain Compliance Volume 2, Number 14. August 01, 2019

Facebook and the tech industry face antitrust investigations

By Sascha Matuszak

Following a record fine of USD 5 billion for failing to protect the personal data of millions of users, Facebook announced in an earnings release that the U.S. Federal Trade Commission has also opened up an antitrust investigation into the company.

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login