

Report on Supply Chain Compliance Volume 2, Number 17. September 12, 2019 Backyard flocks pose food safety risk

By Sascha Matuszak

The U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention reported a total of 1,003 cases of salmonella infections as of Aug. 23. Many of those cases resulted in hospitalizations, including deaths in Ohio and Texas.

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login