

Report on Supply Chain Compliance Volume 3, Number 18. September 17, 2020 Seafood company implicated in false labeling scam

By Sascha Matuszak

The treasurer of a North Carolina seafood company, Garland F. Fulcher Seafood Co. Inc. (Garland Fulcher), conspired to mislabel seafood as being domestically produced when some of the seafood processed and sold by the company was cheaper foreign imports. The United States Department of Justice specifically mentioned blue crab, which has been the target for mislabeling and other scams for some time, in a news release.^[1]

This document is only available to subscribers. Please log in or purchase access.

Purchase Login